Modernize Your Payout Approach

Digital booking platforms have traditionally facilitated payments to their partner properties and suppliers using either virtual prepaid cards or via direct bank deposits. While these methods get the job done, neither offers a truly transparent or scalable solution for fast-growth global platforms. Hyperwallet's architecture, with direct integrations with PayPal and Braintree, offers the ability to disburse multi-currency funds to suppliers quickly, without having to manage multiple bank accounts or worry about costly foreign exchange conversions and flips, or credit card processing fees.

Fund Your Payouts with Ease

Fund payouts to your global suppliers directly in multiple currencies. PayPal can also accommodate multi-currency direct settlement from your existing payment service providers and/or merchant acquirers in order to further streamline the funding process and remove your platform from the flow of funds.

Unlock Payout Optionality

With 9 available transfer methods, Hyperwallet's payout technology puts your payees in charge of how they receive funds, without putting any additional administrative hassle or reconciliation needs on your internal payment team.
