Domestic

A transaction occurring when both the sender and receiver are registered with or identified by PayPal as residents of the same market.

International

A transaction occurring when the sender and receiver are registered with or identified by PayPal as residents of different markets. Certain markets are grouped together when calculating international transaction rates. For a listing of our groupings, please access our Market/Region Grouping Table.

Market Code Table

We may refer to two-letter market codes throughout our fee pages. For a complete listing of PayPal market codes, please access our Market Code Table.

Relevant Market/Region

Rates published below apply to PayPal accounts of residents of the following market/region:

Micropayments

Subject to application and pre-approval by PayPal, you may update an existing account to receive the Micropayment rate. Micropayment rates can be beneficial as an alternative to standard commercial transaction rates for business that process payments under certain amounts. If you update to the Micropayment rate, this rate will apply to all commercial transaction payments received into your PayPal account. Rate applicability may vary for Micropayments for Digital Goods. Please contact us to apply for the Micropayment rates. For more information on Micropayments or Micropayments for Digital Goods, please see our User Agreement.

Withdrawals Out of PayPal

You can typically withdraw funds out of PayPal by standard withdrawals to your linked bank account or eligible cards. A currency conversion (and currency conversion fees) may also apply. For withdrawals to cards, fees are based on the card currency in accordance with the information that PayPal has at the time of the withdrawal (including your selection of the currency, where available). The withdrawal fees are deducted from your remaining balance in your PayPal account. The maximum amount you will be able to withdraw from your balance takes into consideration the deduction of the Withdrawal Fees from the remaining balance. If the fee is not in the same currency as your PayPal account balance from which you withdraw the funds, a currency conversion will be made, and you will additionally be charged Currency Conversion Fees as set out in the Currency Conversion section.
